

Gorilla Lad_ies

mit Pommesbauch (& Gabelstaplerschein)

in Kartoffelland

Breasts are among the first things a child sees.

Why is the sight of breasts in the public considered as not suitable for children; why are breasts sexualized per se?

While people without breasts can get rid of their shirts almost anywhere, people with breasts are required to keep themselves covered.

This is uncomfortable and unfair.

Equal treatment for all genders is guaranteed by article 3 of the German Constitution and the anti-discrimination act. Nevertheless: unfortunately, a picknick like ours still is not considered normal yet.

None of us have ever asked to be sexualized when we simply want to work / relax / escape the heat without restrictive clothing.

Everyone should be free to choose what they want to wear – whether it's nothing, a t-shirt or a burka – without being sexualized or condemned in any way.

We don't want freedom to be taken away from others, we want everyone to enjoy the same freedom.